

Achieving Your Business Potential

You'll learn how to create a culture of accountability and results.

You'll learn how to give your company a competitive edge.

You'll learn about proven and powerful tools and techniques typically only available to much larger corporations

Download the registration form from:

www.arborbusinessconsulting.com.

and  it to:

1-866-514-8236 or

1-877-268-8733 for further information.

PRESENTS

ACHIEVING

Your Business Potential

Business Management Seminar

"Company Owners, Managers & Leaders
if you are too busy to attend this seminar . . .
it is for you!"

Seminar Description

In only a few hours you'll review and evaluate some of the basic business skills that help company owners and managers achieve success. You'll be challenged to see how business principles apply to all enterprises – specifically yours. You'll learn about proven and powerful tools and techniques typically only available to much larger corporations.

This is a highly interactive seminar that will enable you to immediately take action toward achieving your business goals. You'll have a clearer vision of what critical areas you may want to focus on in your business and professional growth.

Key topic areas include:

- Stabilizing growth
- Negotiating and bargaining
- Developing business strategies
- Optimizing capital and human resources
- Empowering people
- Leadership traits
- Sales & Marketing
- Balancing work & life

As a special bonus, you'll complete a proven self-assessment tool that is useful for analyzing future personal and professional development needs.

Speakers

Neil Thiessen – Able Business Consulting Ltd.

Neil is a past president of the Utility Arborist Association and the Industrial Vegetation Management Association of Alberta. He has spent the last 35 years in a variety of corporate management and leadership roles as well as an entrepreneur and business coach. In his current consulting business Neil works with small and medium sized businesses to help them optimize resources and reach the next level of growth they desire. Neil has proven skills as a business mentor and coach and enjoys helping entrepreneurial organizations grow. He challenges others to attain their full potential and defines his success only by the achievements of his clients.

Dwayne Neustaeter – Arbor Business Consulting Ltd. and Arboriculture Canada Training & Education Ltd.

Dwayne is president of Arbor Business Consulting Ltd. and president, curriculum programmer and lead instructor of Arboriculture Canada Training & Education Ltd., organizations focused on meeting the training and business needs of arborists and related industries across Canada. Dwayne has been involved in ownership and management of businesses for over 16 years. He is passionate about helping organizations in the green industry with management issues such as: standard operating procedures, occupational hazard compliance, and strengthening business practices that will serve to improve the bottom line and minimize risks. Dwayne's dynamic presentation style will inspire and motivate business operators to go back to their businesses with renewed energy and practical action steps.

www.arborbusinessconsulting.com

for seminar dates & locations

